FARMER TARIFF BILL IS FIRST TO GET ACTION

Emergency Measure Will Have Passed House No Later Than Thursday.

FARMERS FIGHT SALES TAX

Hearings on Other Important Legislation to Be Started at Once.

By Clarence Dubose
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The farmers' first tariff program of the new congress got well under way Tuesday.

The emergency tariff bill, protecting wheat, wool, meat and other agricultural products from foreign competition, was reported from committee. It will pass the house Wednesday, Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee predicted. Republican floor leader Mondell named Thursday as the time limit.

Farmers, first to get what they want at this session, will soon be demanding defeat of the emergency tariff bill, which they believe is a step toward protection, it was believed here.

The suggested sales taxes to be considered soon by the senate finance committee will provoke much opposition from farmer and labor interests, according to indications reaching congressmen.

With the emergency tariff disposed of in the house, the ways and means committee will pound out the regular tariff bill, which Chairman Fordney says may be ready in a month.

Meanwhile the senate finance committee will begin hearings on the sales tax and follow that by income and revenue tax revision hearings.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, said that senate opposition to the emergency bill is not strong enough probably to make necessary a closure rule to get it through. If necessary, however, that will be done. Penrose made it plain that the bill is going through.

As to the sales tax Penrose still has an "open mind" and said his position will be determined by the arguments and evidence yet to be presented to the committee.

It has been definitely settled, Penrose said, that any tax revision program must eliminate the profits taxes and reduce income taxes. "These things are economically essential to the safety of the country," he declared.

TWO MORE PACKERS SUBMIT PLANS FOR SELLING "YARDS"

Final Steps Are Taken to Divorce Stockyards From Packing Firms.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Final legal steps for the divorce of the big packers from stockyards and stockyards from packing firms were taken here Tuesday.

Swift and company and Armour and company filed in the supreme court of the District of Columbia plans for the disposal of their stockyards and terminal railroad interests. Such plans for the Morris, Wilson and Cudahy companies have already been approved by the court.

If the Swift and Armour plans are approved, the government will have completed the packer suits which have been fought for more than a year.

TEXT OF HARDING MESSAGE

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The text of President Harding's message to congress follows:

Members of the congress:
You have been called into extraordinary session to give your consideration to national problems far too pressing to be long neglected.

We face our task of legislation and administration amid conditions as difficult as our government has ever contemplated.

Under our political system the people of the United States have charged the new congress and the new administration with the solution—the readjustment, reconstruction and restoration which must follow in the wake of war. It may be regretted that we were so ill prepared for war's aftermath, so little made ready to return to the ways of peace, but we are not to be discouraged. Indeed, we must be the more firmly resolved to undertake our work with high hope, and invite every factor in our citizenship to join in the effort to find our normal, onward way again.

The American people have appraised the situation and with that tolerance and patience which go with understanding, they will give to us the influence of deliberate public opinion which ultimately becomes the edict of any popular government. They are measuring some of the stern necessities and will join in the give and take which is so essential to firm establishments.

Start at Home
First in mind must be the solution of our problems at home even though some phases of them are inseparably linked with our foreign relations. The surest procedure in every government is to put its own house in order.

I know of no more pressing problem at home than to restrict our national expenditures within the limits of our national income and at the same time measurably lift the burdens of war taxation from the shoulders of the American people.

One cannot be unmindful that economy is a much employed cry most frequently stressed in pre-election appeals, but it is ours to make it an outstanding and ever impelling purpose in both legislation and administration. The untrained tendencies to heedless expenditure and the attending growth of public indebtedness, extending from federal authority to that of state and municipality and including the smallest political subdivision constitute the most dangerous phase of government today.

The nation cannot restrain except in its own activities, but it can be exemplar in a wholesome reversal.

Hit at Expenditures
The staggering load of war debt must be cared for in orderly funding and gradual liquidation. We shall hasten the solution and act effectively in lifting the tax burdens if we strike resolutely at expenditure. It is far more easily said than done. In the fever of war our expenditures were so little questioned, the emergency was so impelling, application was so impeded that we little noted millions and counted the treasury inexhaustible. It will strengthen our resolution if we ever keep in mind that a continuation of such a course means inevitable disaster. Our current expenditures are running at the rate of approximately five billions a year and the burden is unbearable. There are two agencies to be employed in correction: One is rigid resistance in application and the other is the utmost economy in administration. Let us have both. I have already charged department heads with this necessity. I am sure congress will agree; and both congress and the administration may safely count on the support of all right minded citizens, swelling the flow in one locality while draining another, is sure to defeat the imposition of just burdens and the effect of our citizenship protesting outlay will be wholesome and helpful. I wish it might find its reflex in economy and thrift among the people themselves, because therein lies quicker recovery and added security for the future.

The estimates of receipts and expenditures and the statements as to the condition of the treasury which the secretary of the treasury is prepared to present to you, will indicate what revenues must be provided in order to carry on the government's business and meet its current requirements and fixed debt charges. Unless there are striking cuts in the important fields of expenditures, receipts from internal taxes cannot safely be permitted to fall below $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal year, 1922, and 1923. This would mean total internal tax collections of about one billion less than in 1920 and one half billion less than in 1921.

Revise Taxation
The most substantial relief from the tax burden must come for the present from the readjustment of internal taxes and the revision or repeal of those taxes which have become unproductive and are so artificial and burdensome as to defeat their own purpose. A prompt and thoroughgoing revision of the internal tax laws, made with due regard to President's Visit to Congress Simply a Renewal of Old Friendships.

Washington.—President Harding and congress have entered upon an era of complete partnership. Talks with returning members whose factional differences were pronounced in the last congress indicate that Mr. Harding has behind him in congress a powerful influence for cooperation. "Irreconcilables" as well as "reservationists" as the groups became known in the treaty fight, are asserting with unmistakable positiveness that "the president and the senate are going to get along exceptionally well together."

Mr. Harding has decided to read his address to congress. On the surface this seems as if he had merely swallowed another Wilson policy but there will be a difference between the ways of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Harding.

The former was wont to enter the legislative chamber in solemn dignity and depart as abruptly as he came. Mr. Harding views his visits to the capitol as an opportunity to mingle with colleagues in the cloak rooms and drink in the atmosphere of fellowship which is characteristic of the membership of both the senate and house irrespective of party. The new president can call members of congress by their first names and hardly feel that he is doing something artificial to curry favor. Warren H. Burton in 1920 and one half billion less than in 1921.

A Pro-Ally Peace
The writer has been talking with some of the so-called "bitter enders" in the senate who feel satisfied that Mr. Harding has interpreted the mandate of the last election correctly when he turns his back on the League of Nations and peace treaty.

But the significant thing which one draws from conversation with these senators is that the alternative—separate peace with Germany—doesn't mean the same thing to them as it does to the folks who have been regarding such a step as "an abandonment of the allies" or a "pro-German peace."

Of one thing the public may be assured and that is that when America makes a separate peace it will not be a pro-German peace but a pro-ally peace. Anything else would be absurd and unthinkable. None other than Senator Knox, author of the resolution, declaring a state of peace with Germany gave the writer such an assurance in an informal talk on the peace outlook. Mr. Knox is in complete accordance with the Hughes policies as announced in recent notes. He goes no friction—only harmony ahead.

Plenty of Precedent
It was natural that there should be considerable speculation as to the part the senate foreign relations committee should play as contrasted with the department of state in formulating foreign policy. So far as Mr. Knox foresees there is no prospect of an infringement by either branch of the government on the prerogatives of the other. Congress has on many occasions by joint resolution declared American policy toward foreign nations. There are plenty of precedents for the expression of an opinion by congress, and indeed the Knox resolution simply requests the president to enter into an agreement with Germany at the appropriate time to carry further the requirements of peace-making after congress shall have declared a state of peace.

Of course the making of peace by Congressional resolution will mark a precedent in American history. Heretofore wars have been ended by the ratification of treaties. But the convincing argument has been made at this late date that there is no sound reason why America should be deprived of certain commercial opportunities because of the existence of a technical state of war.

ONE KILLED, EIGHT HURT IN BOILER HOUSE BLAST

By United Press Leased Wire
Akron, Ohio.—One person was killed and eight injured in an explosion at the Miller Rubber company Tuesday. A boiler exploded in the power house to the rear of the main building, causing in the entire structure. All the ambulances in the city were called to the plant and the list of casualties is expected to increase as relief workers search the wreckage.

HAVE WEEKLY WEEP IF YOU WANT PRETTY EYES

Chicago.—Girls, if you have beautiful sparkling eyes just sit down and have a good weep at least once a week.

This was the advice given Tuesday by Madame Louise, famed beauty expert.

"Weeping in moderation strengthens the eyes," said Madame Louise.

"Tears have natural cleansing powers and impart a charming luster to the orbs."

"The difficulty of deriving benefit from the natural tonic is that few people can weep at will. The best and most successful way to bring tears is to have a good laugh."

DEMOCRATS FIGHT HARD AGAINST BIG ODDS IN CONGRESS

Huge Republican Majority Puts Minority Party in Bad Position.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The Democratic minority in congress was showing fight Tuesday although hopelessly outnumbered.

In both house and senate protests against Republican methods of organizing for business were made. They were promptly overridden of course, but Democratic leaders said they "had gone on record" and were content.

Democratic senators made strong objection against the Republican proposal to amend senate rules to permit committees to have sixteen instead of fifteen members. The additional member in each case would be a new Republican senator for whom committee places have to be made.

Democrats claim this is a despotism of the partisan advantage and that it puts them at an unfair disadvantage in the framing of important legislation.

Senator Hitchcock, acting Democratic leader, said he would fight the rule as hard as possible, though the Republican margin of 22 votes means defeat for the Democrats. In the house the fight was waged late Monday on the provision to allow suspension of the rules by a two-thirds vote. Under suspension of the rules a bill can be rushed through after 40 minutes debate without any opportunity for amendment.

Representative Pou, North Carolina, pointed out that the Republicans have more than two-thirds of the house membership, so that they can bring in party measures, suspend the rules, rush them to a vote and pass them without the opposition being heard. He proposed making a three-fourths vote necessary to suspension but was beaten.

WOMEN TRAIN GUNS ON PARTY BOSSES

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, Ohio.—Woman, the newly enfranchised, is going to drive machine politicians and ward heelers out of the American political system.

This was the keynote of the annual report of Mrs. Maude Wood Park, chairman, delivered before the second annual convention of the National League of Women Voters in session here.

The committee on uniform laws is to present the following recommendations:

An equal interest of husband and wife in each other's real estate. The removal of all common law disabilities of married women. Wife and child abandonment should be made a criminal offense. Common law marriages should be abolished.

The state should require health certificates before issuing marriage licenses.

There should be uniform state legislation on marriage and divorce and statutes prohibiting the evasion of marriage laws.

By United Press Leased Wire
Detroit.—William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, American prohibition workman, was hooded out of Windsor last night and followed by a shower of bricks, eggs and beer bottles as he boarded the ferry for Detroit. Such a loud and antagonistic demonstration developed when he appeared in the Windsor armory that he was unable to utter a word of his advertised speech and police had to escort him to the dock to protect him from the mob. He was uninjured but several policemen were struck by flying missiles.

SEN. LODGE LEADING FIGHT

Senator Tells Why He Has Changed Position on Four Year Old Quarrel.

By L. G. Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Four years of senatorial debate (off and on) over the proposal to pay the republic of Colombia $25,000,000 in settlement of the dispute over the Panama canal question, Tuesday drew near its end.

The senate took up the proposed treaty with Colombia, under an agreement to vote after eight days debate. Supporters and opponents of the right to jump into the fray Tuesday night at the start. Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee, opened the discussion with a speech favoring ratification. Lodge's speech was largely an explanation of his change of position. Four years ago he signed a report in which the treaty was called "international blackmail."

Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, followed with a speech opposing ratification and took the position that the same reasons exist today as existed in Theodore Roosevelt's time for not acceding to Colombia's demand for payment.

Senator Pomerene, Ohio, and Knox, Pennsylvania, also are to speak on the treaty though it was considered doubtful whether either would get the floor Tuesday.

The treaty in its present form proposes to pay to Colombia in annual installments of $7,000,000, a total of $25,000,000 in settlement of all claims growing out of the dispute which arose when the new republic of Panama seceded from Colombia. The United States paid Panama $10,000,000 for the site of the canal. Previously negotiations had been going on for purchase of this land from Colombia. The Colombian government wanted more money. When Panama seceded, the United States bought it. Colombia blames the United States for Panama's secession and has been demanding money and an apology. The money senators were willing to give but Republicans always fought the apology on the ground that it was a slight on the late Theodore Roosevelt during whose term as president the affair occurred.

Total of 12 murder indictments was returned by the grand jury late Monday. Williams and Clyde Manning, Negro, "boss", whose confession resulted in the former's conviction were jointly indicted for the death of eight Negroes. Huland Williams was indicted for the death of a Negro known as "Blackstrap" in the fall of 1920.

Joint indictments were returned against Leroy and Marvin Williams, charging them with the murder of a Negro named "Ironjaw" in the summer of 1920.

Marvin Williams also was indicted for the murder of John Singleton in April, 1918. This brings the total number of murders on and near Williams' place revealed to date, to thirteen.

The grand jury Tuesday started investigation into alleged murders by other individuals.

PEGGY IS UNABLE TO HOLD HUSBANDS

Beautiful Shop Girl's Third Millionaire Husband Seeks Freedom.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—The third millionaire husband of Peggy Hopkins, beautiful showgirl, had asked for his freedom Tuesday.

J. Stanley Joyce, multi-millionaire lumberman, in a suit filed asked that his marriage to Peggy be annulled and that she refund costs to a million dollars of his property.

The list of correspondents that Joyce names looks like a social register. They read:

Bartlin French, said to be a New York millionaire; Henri Letellier, Parisian journalist; Maurice, a dancer whose first name is unknown, and Evans Spaulding, official of the American Woolen Mills, New York.

Blonde, slight and blue-eyed Peggy started her matrimonial ventures when she was 17. She was Marguerite Upton of Norfolk, Va., and ran away with Everett Archer of Denver, Colo. The marriage was annulled in six months. Later she married Sherburne Hopkins, Washington, D. C. attorney.

Peggy later declared she was "off" of millionaires and went to New York where she started in several Broadway successes. She was divorced by Hopkins and married Joyce two days later.

Joyce asks annulment on the grounds that she was still legally married to Hopkins when he married her, because the laws of Texas do not permit remarriage within such a short time.

GIRL, MISSING 2 WEEKS, IS FOUND AT WAUKEGAN

Waukegan, Ill.—Caryl Pattison, 20, a coed at the University of Illinois and daughter of Harry Pattison, rich real estate dealer of Peoria, who has been missing for two weeks, was found sleeping on the front porch of the home of John Mackin, wealthy lumberman, here Tuesday.

Grand Jury Returns Indictments Charging Murder Against Three Men.

By United Press Leased Wire
Medford, Ga.—A nationwide search was instituted Tuesday for Huland, Marvin and Leroy Williams, sons of John S. Williams, proprietor of the Jasper county "death farm," following their indictment by the Jasper county grand jury in connection with the wholesale slaying of Negroes on and near their father's plantation.

Governor Dorsey will be asked to offer a reward for their arrest. Solicitor General Doyle Campbell announced.

The three have been missing since the arrest of their father. They did not attend the Williams trial at Covington last week where he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Total of 12 murder indictments was returned by the grand jury late Monday. Williams and Clyde Manning, Negro, "boss", whose confession resulted in the former's conviction were jointly indicted for the death of eight Negroes. ## NOTORIOUS BANDIT IS SHOT TO DEATH

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Louis.—Police Tuesday combed the city for the blonde woman who shared the apartments of "The Shamrock," notorious criminal who was found shot to death in his rooms last night.

"The Shamrock" went under many aliases. He was best known as Michael McNamara, a two-time ex-convict and alleged leader of a gang of safe blowers who operated throughout the United States.

The murder was believed by police to have been the outcome of a dispute over the division of spoils of a recent haul. McNamara was shot four times. His assailants escaped in a motorcar.

The woman in the case was described by neighbors as "a good looking blonde about 20 years old." She was last seen leaving the apartment stylishly dressed and carrying a white poodle dog. This was last Friday. Police believe she may be able to give some clue to the identity of the assailants.

"The Shamrock" was also known here as "the king of the western safe blowers."

Police here declared he had served time in San Quentin, Walla Walla and other west coast penitentiaries.

ASKS SCHOOL HEADS TO FIX SCHEDULES FOR DENTAL CLINIC

Principals Discuss Plan for Improving Work in Grade Schools.

Mrs. George Wetzel, representing the Red Cross, appeared at a meeting of school principals at 4:30 Monday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. to present the matter of the dental clinic for school children and to ask the executives to arrange a schedule. At present Dr. J. J. Elsworth is devoting from 2 to 6 o'clock every day to the school children. It will be impossible for every child to receive dental attention so only those will be given treatment who receive their parents' consent.

Alfred Osterhouse, principal of First district schools, presented his plan for the elimination of retardation among pupils. In the plan the pupils are divided into three groups according to their ability, and those who are brighter are separated from those who do not absorb their lessons so readily. The object is not to rush the brighter pupils through school but to enlarge the curriculum to give them more good from their education. On the other hand, the course of study is narrowed to suit the ability of the slower grasping student.

It was agreed to hold one more principals' meeting before the end of this school year. It will be a social meeting and the wives of the principals will be invited to attend. The men unanimously agreed that the organization be continued next year and that it had been both profitable and pleasant to them in providing closer cooperation and understanding between them.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ROB SALOON

Heavy Plate Glass Window Is Broken—Fox Club Plans Elaborate Party.

Kaukauna—What may have been an attempt at robbery was discovered about 4 o'clock Monday morning by Patrolman John Helling on his regular beat of the city. The plate glass in the door of the Little Cozy saloon owned by Joseph Hendricks was broken, but investigation by the police revealed no sign of robbers. The glass in the door was very nearly a half inch thick and it is thought that night prowlers who attempted to gain entrance to the saloon were frightened away by the falling glass. The strips which held the glass in place were scarred as if some smooth surfaced article had been used to break the window.

The incident occurred sometime between 12:15 and 4 o'clock. Joseph Hendricks, owner of the saloon, was notified and an immediate investigation of the interior was made, but up to the present nothing has been missed.

Charles Vanevenhoven, Town Line road, was pleasantly surprised Sunday evening by a group of friends in honor of his birthday anniversary. Cards were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Chester Foeagan, Mrs. Fred Meyer, Charles Vanevenhoven and E. G. Driessen. Mrs. Otto Heindl and Arthur Ulrich were presented the consolation prizes. A delicious lunch was served to 18 guests.

$70.81 for Chinese Relief
The final report from all Kaukauna public schools shows a total of $70.81 collected for the China relief. A campaign was conducted for the last week among the students.

Sociality Social
A social will be given Tuesday by the Young Ladies Sociality of Holy Cross church. The social will be held at Neusen's restaurant.

Fox Club Dance
Final arrangements have been made for the annual Fox club informal dance to be held Friday evening in Elk hall. Artistic decorations in the colors and emblems of the Fox club will be used to trim the hall appropriately for the occasion.

Most of the members of the club will attend the high school operetta "The Windmills of Holland" which will begin early enough to allow people to attend both events. Music for the dance will be furnished by the Valley Country Club orchestra of Neenah.

Royal Neighbors Meeting
A meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held Wednesday evening in Odd Fellow hall. Regular business will be taken up.

Lady Eagles Meet
The Lady Eagles will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. Matt Vandenberg. The usual order of business will be disposed of. Refreshments will be served.

Wed in Freedom
At 9 o'clock Monday morning Miss Martha Huss and William Vander Wetering of Freedom, were married at St. Nicholas church by the Rev. Francis Peters. Miss Hattie Vander Wetering, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Peter Huss, brother of the bride, was the groomsman.

A wedding dance was held in Hol-lantown Monday evening for the guests.

PETITIONS PROTEST VETO OF GAME BILL

Madison, Wis.—Petitions by the dozens are pouring into the legislature asking for the passage over Gov. Blaine's veto of the emergency bill appropriating $30,000 to the Conservation Commission for the maintenance of the department, including the fish and game wardens. The matter has been made a special order of business for Wednesday when it is expected Chairman Mark Catlin, of the assembly committee on fish and game will deliver his first prepared speech of the legislative session.

The assembly has passed two bills of vital interest to the anglers of the state. The first, No. 215 A, takes pickerei, croppies, sunfish, blue gills, bullheads and catfish out of the rough fish class and places them in the class with game fish. The other measure, No. 265 A, places a bag limit of 50 on white bass and provides a limit of two muskellonge per day, which must be at least 34 inches in length or weigh at least 10 pounds. The committee had cut out of the bill the section which would have prohibited the trolling for fish from motor boats.

local association had a membership of 160 and in order to reach the goal efforts are to be made to have the dues paid up and new members secured.

Membership committees, under the direction of S. M. Engholdt and W. F. Ashe, are organized and waiting for opening day of the drive.

E. F. CARROLL

Music store proprietor
My first job was working in a buggy hub factory in Oosian, Ind. I was about 15 years old at the time and I worked for $1.40 a day. My work was to bore the holes into elmwood blocks from which the hubs were made. Of course the hole was bored by machinery but it was my duty to get the machine boring in the right place.

I had to turn out a definite number of hubs every day. I stuck to the job all summer and went to school in the fall. The schedule of work hours was then 10 hours. Then, too, excellent board and room could be secured for $4.50 a week.

NEENAH WANTS TO FORM CLASS IN SALESMANSHIP

Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, will speak before merchants and other interested members of the Neenah Civic association Wednesday evening concerning a merchandising course for next fall. Retailers visited the Appleton class at the vocational school several times and were impressed with the nature and accomplishments of the course. A series of classes along similar lines probably will be organized in Neenah.

To the Editor of The Post-Crescent: I have always had a deep and sincere respect for our president and congress during the last few years of unresting tumult. I still have faith that at least 99 per cent are normal and gifted, as God gave all, with brains. However, there is room for doubt after reading the statement recently made by Senator Thomas on the soldier bonus.

If a man who occupies position he does can make such a statement to the American citizen and former service man, truly he is not justified either in claiming America as his home or in expecting full cooperation and protection in future wars.

SANER STATESMANSHIP

Developments at Washington indicate that after all neither Mr. Knox nor Mr. Lodge nor the United States senate itself is to determine the foreign policy of the Harding administration. Signs are not wanting that President Harding and his able secretary of state, Mr. Hughes, are evolving in close consultation a foreign policy of their own, which takes into account a much wider field of international affairs than was contemplated by the senate leaders, and particularly Mr. Knox in his resolution at the last session of congress for declaring a separate peace with Germany. The Knox resolution simply declared the war at an end and left American rights and the American position with respect to peace and European affairs undetermined.

Dispatches from Washington in the last few days say that President Harding is not satisfied with the Knox peace program. In the midst of the presidential campaign, on October 14th, 1920, thirty-one distinguished leaders of American political thought issued an appeal to the voters to support Mr. Harding for president on the ground that his election would be the most effective means of promoting peace by international cooperation. In this appeal it was stated:

The question accordingly is not between a league and no league, but is whether certain provisions in the proposed League agreement shall be accepted unchanged or shall be changed. The conditions of Europe make it essential that the stabilizing effect of the treaty already made between the European powers shall not be lost by them and that the necessary changes be made by changing the terms of the treaty rather than by beginning entirely anew. That course Mr. Harding is willing to follow.

This appeal was directed to Republican supporters of the League of Nations. Two of the signers are now members of Mr. Harding's cabinet. Secretary of State Hughes, and Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce. Among the other signers were Elihu Root, several members of previous Republican cabinets and other distinguished republicans. While this declaration refers especially to the League of Nations, and is highly significant as touching on the probable advice and course of Mr. Hughes, it indirectly reflects an attitude that varies with that of the Knox program for separate peace.

If the news dispatches from Washington are correct, the president will insist that any peace resolution shall properly safeguard American interests and make an acknowledgment of their acceptance a part of congressional action. This course would simplify the international situation, it would make it possible for the United States to support its former allies in the execution of proper reparations from Germany and it would give force to suggestions from the United States for the economic rehabilitation of Europe.

Regardless of America's position in the peace settlement it is apparent that the allies themselves must be able to maintain their treaty rights as against Germany if there is to be reconstruction and peace in Europe. By making recognition of our rights under the Versailles treaty, as well as the obligations that go with the rights, a part of a peace declaration by congress we would escape the charge of deserting our associates in the World war, a matter which is of the highest consideration to the honor of the country.

This probable course by the administration is not at all in accord with the wishes or predictions of the irreconcilables. It prophesies a break with that element and what is more important it signifies the potent influence of Mr. Hughes' statesmanship in the new administration.

DIPLOMACY AND OIL

The British and American governments are arguing whether or not Americans will be allowed to share in exploiting the oil fields of Mesopotamia, which Great Britain rules by mandate. This issue is a preliminary skirmish in a great trade war that will ultimately decide the question.

Is the United States going to lose its leadership in the world's oil industry?

Last year 64 per cent of the world's oil came from American wells. But the geological survey warns that our oil resources are 40 per cent exhausted and that it may be only a few decades until we shall be largely dependent on other countries. British oil men believe that within ten years England will control the world's oil supply, and that Americans will have to import British oil to the amount of $1,000,000,000 a year.

Oil concessions in Mesopotamia were granted to a Turkish syndicate before the war. These concessions were transferred to the British Petroleum company—whether during or since the war, is a disputed question. Great Britain's mandate specifies that there shall be no discriminations in Mesopotamia against individuals or corporations of any country which is a member of the league of nations. This, Great Britain contends, does not apply to the United States, which is not a member of the League. She also contends that the League has no jurisdiction over the concessions which she claims she acquired before the peace conference.

But the United States demands that every country have equal commercial rights in Mesopotamia. Meantime, American oil interests demand that Britain respect oil concessions in Palestine granted to Americans before the war. By the San Remo agreement in 1920, England and France united to exploit Mesopotamian oil. France to get 25 per cent, the natives 20 per cent and England the rest.

The British government's policy is to prohibit aliens from owning oil lands, refineries or oil securities in her empire. It points out that all but Americans are excluded from drilling for oil in the Philippines. It is quiet about the great oil holdings owned by British interests in the United States. In addition to Mesopotamia, Great Britain is reaching out for control of the rich oil lands of Persia, Asia Minor, South America, Ukraina, etc.

Thus, with customary British foresight, she prepares for the day when American oil fields may be exhausted.

In transportation, oil is becoming increasingly vital. Automobiles must have it. Railroads may shortly burn oil instead of coal. Sixteen out of every 100 of the world's ships are fueled by oil, and the percentage is constantly increasing. The country that controls the world's oil supply may soon control the merchant marine. Therein is England's special interest.

FROG MUSIC

By Alfred Arnold

Talk about your robins and your blackbirds, and your wrens:
Just listen to the music of the gobs and the hens.
And the guineas, and the ducks! There's a voice, too,
From the bogs.
That makes a right good tootle; it's the hollerin' of the frogs!

They come along in early spring, about horse-radish time;
They sing a song of bees and flowers, or plead for summer's clime;
But, anyways, they've got the bulge on all the birds that sing.

And there's no darned many of them that they make the whole air ring!

You walk along at evening, when the ground has thawed out warm;
There's an early moon a-floatin' with the stars in proper form;
And you hear an orchestra tune up in some still roadside pool.
With a treble, bass, and tenor to beat any music school!

Some folks say it's creepy-like, and solemn, when frogs sing—
We all hear what we're listenin' for, or sad or sweet—
—By Jingo!

I hear a whoop-de-doodle of the good things yet to be;
A kind of hope a-gettin' set; and that's enough for me!

Talk about your thrushes and your martins, and your jays
That sing, or squawk their hearts out in a hundred different ways;
I hear the sweetest music, and it helps my trials and woes
When Nature whispers "Let 'er go," to half a million frogs!

SPILT MILK

Some people cling to a disappointment as if it were the pearl of great price. Filled in a chertoph plan, they more and lament their hard luck with a constancy that is worthy of a better cause.

This is a great mistake. No good can possibly come of it; instead, much harm through the waste of time, energy and enthusiasm. So much of the world's enthusiasm is lost in crying over spilt milk, it is small wonder that there are so many mediocre people in the world.

That is something the wise never do. Of course, there is always the first shock of the disappointment which means the altering of our plans, and for the moment things may look dark. But once we see the positive necessity of abandoning a plan, we should do it and begin at once to cast about for a better one. More often than otherwise, we shall find that, after all, the disappointment was really a blessing in disguise.

How many a boy or girl in the teens has been broken-hearted at the sudden termination of the most wonderful love affair in the world, only later to thank all their lucky stars that they escaped the entanglement.

Disappointment is simply a signal for shifting our sails according to the kindly breezes that are bearing us toward our coveted goal in life. That's all.

The United States received $40,000,000 in foreign gold during March.

Government departments in Washington send out an average of 700,000 pieces of mail a day.

LIME

The average man has or should have about three pounds of calcium or lime in him, about one-fifth of the body weight.

Although laymen often assume that they are getting too much lime in drinking water of otherwise and that this may favor hardening of the arteries, there is no basis for such belief. On the contrary, there is good reason to think that, as Professor H. C. Sherman of Columbia University says in his book (Chemistry of Food and Nutrition) "the ordinary mixed diet of North Americans and Europeans, at least among dwellers in cities and towns, is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element."

Among foods of animal origin fresh milk, butter, milk, skim milk, and curdled milk (cottage cheese) is about the only one which can be said to be rich in lime content. By the way, it is probable that actual benefit derived from a notorious highbrow patient medicine "nerve tonic" of whose efficacy ignorant college professors and muckracker doctors freely testify, and which is practically what Sam Flap Adams called glorified cottage cheese, is attributable to the lime-deprivation from which the testimonial writers suffer.

Vegetable foods furnish more lime than animal foods. The marked improvement in the nutrition of infants after the addition of small daily amounts of green or fresh vegetables such as spinach, carrots, orange juice, oatmeal, turnips, prune juice (all the solids well cooked and strained through a sieve until the child cuts teeth), may be due to the more adequate filling of the growing child's need for calcium for bone, tooth and muscle building.

Dr. Sherman has suggested the addition of powdered calcium carbonate (prepared chalk) to the salt in the salt cellar, equal quantities of each, as a means of supplying the calcium deficiency of the average dietary.

Our habit of denaturizing and otherwise maltreating foods which should furnish calcium along with other important factors—the food purveyors insist that this is a desirable "purification"—goes far to account for our annual five hundred million dollar expenditure for medicines in America. The food in this country is so denatured that the staff of life, we deem it in the mill, the most essential and healthful portions of the wheat, in our insane desire to have a dead white flour, Calcium is one of the elements removed from the wheat in milling; iron is another; the vitamins of the wheat are another; the natural laxative and digestive stimulus, bran, is another. The result is fit food for a mollycoddle, and a great boon for the nostrum maker.

Some one sent me a sample of his particular brand of whole wheat—canned! By golly, that was the limit! One can purchase whole wheat from any farmer who raises wheat, cook it two to three hours, and enjoy a wholesome, wholesome, natural cereal and natural laxative combined. Yet this manufacturer cans the wheat and presents it canned and "prepared" and doctored with this and that addition. Does the public really demand that sort of thing?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reduction

You have printed a good many answers for people who wish to reduce their weight. I think many of your readers, like myself, would be interested in your advice about gaining weight. I am sure the skinny ones worry more about their shortcomings than the fat ones do. I am twenty-four, 54 inches tall, and weigh 107 pounds. I should like to gain about twenty pounds.

ANSWER—To thirty the skinny ones should worry more than the fat ones. After thirty the skinny ones may well stop worrying and let the fat ones get in more worrying, for then it is over-weight that menaces life. As a matter of fact, I find, at least as far as the more credulous sex is concerned, that I seldom am asked by a woman of normal weight how she can increase her weight, but I receive a great many requests from women of normal weight who actually wish to decrease their weight. So it is evident that the artists who draw the fashion caricatures have persuaded the more credulous sex that the ideal to strive after is the meag and bone and hank of hair. Now, then, skinny folks, I'll gladly give you all the suggestions I can crowd into a letter on the subject if you will provide the S. A. E. to fetch that letter.

Bicycle Riding

Is it all right for a healthy girl aged thirteen years to ride a bicycle? My aunt says it is not good for me. (V. A.)

ANSWER—I suspect that's an old dodge of aunts, uncles, fathers and mothers who hate to purchase the bike. I assure you it is a fine, wholesome exercise in every way for a girl to ride a wheel.

The Baby Marked

We have two fine baby boys that want a home. One is three months old, with black eyes and hair; the other is five weeks old, with blue eyes and light hair. If these farm people who wrote you about adopting a baby will visit us they can have one of these boys as soon as the necessary legal form of papers are completed with, which would take not more than a week or ten days.

(J. J. E. and Wife, Superintendent.)

ANSWER—This communication is from an incorporated church organization of Iowa. Glad to give the address to any interested reader.

Glimpse Of A Century

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—A vivid reminder of the time when an unexplored wilderness lay west of the Mississippi, when Government engineers on duty out there dined on buffalo steaks and occasionally had to fight Indians, was brought to light in the War Department the other day.

Mr. De Grange, who has charge of the library in the office of the chief of engineers, was doing a little spring house cleaning when he came upon an old and faded diary.

An examination showed that it was the journal of one Joseph Nicolas Nicolle, a distinguished French astronomer and explorer, who was employed for several years by the United States Engineer Corps almost a century ago. And this volume contained not only an interesting account of the Frenchman's adventures in the wilds of the Middle West, but also a beautiful collection of pressed wild flowers in such perfect condition that they were transferred to the Smithsonian Institution for cataloging and exhibition.

Nicolle, who was born at Cluses in Savoy in 1786, shares with the noted M. Pond, the distinction of discovering the famous Comet of 1821. Because of unfortunate speculations he had to leave France in 1830 and came to the United States. The American Government gave the noted astronomer assistance in making geographical and geological explorations of the territory beyond the Mississippi River and he was connected with the Engineer Corps until 1843.

It was while making these surveys that M. Nicolle made the beautiful collection as well as compiling data and maps on the subject of explorations, which have proved of exceedingly great value to this country and have been published in French as well as English. The originals of these works and the maps which he so carefully colored at the time of the surveys are in the possession of the Engineer Corps at this time, but Mr. De Grange says they expect to turn these valuable records over to the Library of Congress for careful reprinting and cataloging in the collection of the Congressional Library.

Among these records is the Frenchman's personal diary, made while at Fort Clark, Mo. Like the more serious matter, Monsieur's personal thoughts are recorded in the yellowed pages of a tall, old-fashioned ledger in fine, precise handwriting. There are many statements of conditions in these crude notes to make the present-day reader smile and some which make him wonder. A faded clipping of "The Republic" a newspaper of the period, dated November 28, 1836, that is enclosed in the diary, states regarding the presidential election of that year:

"Three weeks have elapsed since the election, but we have received few official returns—those from Missouri and Illinois. We are indebted to the 'Missouri Republican' for these. They show, Harrison, 149, Van Buren, 446. In Madison we learned verbally that in the election of one township, Van Buren had a majority of 60 votes."

In Monsieur's diary, called "My first diary" (dated 1837), and carefully protected by a hand-sewn cover of elk skin, under March sixth is noted, "Hail, gentle Spring, I greet thee with feelings of most heartfelt delight. Grosvontes has arrived from Reo Camp and says strange Indians are encamped at Turtle Mountain."

Under date of March 14th—"The Indians killed one of my dogs—retaliated by killing two in his place—sweet revenge."

Wednesday—"The express from St. Louis for Ft. Union remains here as yet having no person to send with it. There is a cold northwest wind so that we are not able to even haul wood. My hunters arrived with the meat of four bulls."

Sunday, May 26th—"Sent up to Grosvontes to collect some news. Had duck for dinner, the first this year. The men at the Fort made a record yesterday by killing 900 rats. They did not finish till nearly dawn."

February 3, 1838—"Killed one wolf last night—stormy weather—Major killed two antelopes today but Mitchell who went hunting with him arrived home with only the meat of one poor crow. The Rees run a band of Buffalo of at least 2,000 and killed a great number."

Sunday, the 23rd—"Today was a holiday and we celebrated with a fine, big dinner, prepared by old Char-boneau. We had roast beef, boiled tongue, broiled pheasants, bread, tobacco, coffee and grog."

From these excerpts it may be seen that M. Nicolle's diary, at least, is distinctly free from weighty and scientific matter, but it is certainly interesting reading as it holds up the looking glass to our Middle West of that period.

A further view of that time, especially on the H. C. of L. in the early forties, just prior to the gold rush across the plains, is given on the last few pages of the diary when some accounts of trades with the Indians are set down.

Fur Was Cheap

In one instance Monsieur bought from French trader, another Indian, five wolf skins for $2.50, and three fox for $1.75. In return he sold beads ($1.00), bacon ($1.25), buttons $1.00, grog and tobacco ($1.00).

Another most noteworthy transaction took place when he purchased eight wolf skins, five red fox skins, and two gray fox from Baptiste, a third Indian trader, for the modest sum of $3.25. Baptiste, in turn bought one-half a twine ball for $5.00, one blue wolf robe for $1.00, two pounds of sugar for $2.00, 12 pounds of flour for $3.50, one pound of coffee for $1.00, and one pound of tobacco for $1.00.

It is quite evident that the above were considered exceedingly weighty transactions and were recorded in all due seriousness and it is equally evident that Monsieur Nicolle not only had a sense of humor but was also a good salesman and a man of great diplomatic resources for he tells of settling many disputes between natives of hostile tribes and seems to have enjoyed his trading, botanical, geographical and geological exploration work, and astronomical research equally well, although it is his work along the last named line which made his reputation. This gallant Frenchman died in 1843, just following the last notes given in his "Fort Clark Journal."

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How many Presidents have we had who were Baptists? R. C. G.

A. President Harding is the first President who has belonged to the Baptist church.

Q. Is it proper to speak of a person being invalidated? Q. S.

A. When a soldier is sent home on account of being unfit for military duty, he is said to be invalidated. In the United States he is sent to the General Hospital, and in England to Netley Hospital, for treatment and final disposition of his case.

Q. Can a former American citizen who has become a Canadian citizen regain his citizenship in the United States? C. P.

A. A former American citizen who has become a naturalized Canadian can return to this country and take out naturalization papers and become an American citizen.

Q. About what is the range in the number of volts employed in the application of X-rays as used in modern medicine and surgery? A. L. L.

A. The range in number of volts employed in application of X-rays as used in modern medicine and dentistry varies from 75,000 to 150,000 volts.

Q. Should oysters be eaten which have been frozen and then thawed out? L. N. C.

A. The Bureau of Fisheries says that oysters deteriorate rapidly when thawed out after having been frozen, so they should be eaten immediately. When a scum forms on them it is not safe to use them for food.

Q. Who settled Iceland? F. H. N.

A. Iceland received the greatest portion of its original population from Norway, between 850 and 870, when it was colonized by Norsemen or Scandinavian Vikings, although some settlements of Irish monks had been made about the end of the 8th century.

Q. Where was the Golden Milestone? R. E. J.

A. The Golden Milestone or Millarium Aureum, was set up by Augustus about 30 B. C. It was not a milestone, but an itinerary placed toward the west end of the Roman Forum.

Q. The blue field should be 7-13 of the hoist in depth (seven stripes) and 7-100 of the hoist in length.

Rome. Portions of this column are still in existence.

Q. After brick buildings are built, sometimes a white substance appears on the brick which spoils the appearance of the building. What is it and can it be removed? W. D.

A. The Geological Survey states that the phenomenon to which you refer is known as efflorescence and is a very common condition caused by soluble salts in the clay. After the bricks are in the wall the moisture dissolves the salt, brings it to the surface and after the water is evaporated, the salt is left on the face of the brick. It can be washed off with water, but will probably reappear until all of the salt is washed out of the brick.

Q. What does the Word "Mississippi" mean? W. L. R.

A. "Mississippi" is an Indian name derived from an Algonquin word meaning "Father of Waters."

A. The Bureau of Forestry says that a pine tree from 12 to 18 inches high should transplant successfully from a nearby forest. Dip up the tree with a ball of earth around the roots, being careful not to cut or injure the roots.

Q. When was black first used for a mourning color? W. H. T.

A. The custom of wearing black for mourning was originated by Anne, the Queen of Charles VIII of France. On the death of her husband in 1488, she surrounded her coat-of-arms with black in token of widowhood and clothed herself in black, contrary to the prevailing habit which was for widows to wear white.

Q. Why do the Polish people use the ending "ski" on their last names? I. L. O.

A. The termination "ski" in Polish means literally "son of."

Q. How does Ireland compare with Rhode Island in size? J. S.

A. The area of Ireland is 32,605 square miles, while Rhode Island has 1,055 square miles of land surface.

Q. How should a wildflower and be transplanted? M. M. L.

Q. In making a United States Flag, what should the proportion of the blue field be? G. L. S.

A. The blue field should be 7-13 of the hoist in depth (seven stripes) and 7-100 of the hoist in length.

We can't break the news as long as somebody else owns this newspaper

To talk shirts as we should talk shirts is impossible.

This paper gets so much an inch for space. To tell the story it would take every one of its 12 pages.

They would have to leave out the Balkan news and the Bootlegging items. Society would be miffed and Mrs. Jones who has just returned from visiting her sister-in-law at the County seat would be mad.

So we'll go easy—and simply say that if you want to see shirts in the full sense of the word—Beauty in its most comprehensive form—and Value working with its coat off—then come here this week—for if you wait—you may be late.

STATES PERMITTED TO PASS ANTI-DRUG LAWS

Washington—States can enact anti-narcotic laws which do not conflict with the federal laws, the supreme court Monday held in declaring constitutional such a statute of Minnesota.

The state law was attacked by C. D. Whipple, Minneapolis physician, convicted under it.

He claimed it was unconstitutional and that he had not violated it because he was prescribing drugs to

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Dad Had a Different Reason for Wearing Wool Stockings and Goggles.

"These wool socks cost me eight bucks a pair, and I've got six pairs of 'em, and I wish I'd bought silk and wool instead, for maybe they wouldn't let me go!" Such was her shocking comment. "I'm not the only girl that's suffering torments, now-a-days, but I can stand it all right when I'm out doors and it's cold, but when I get warm I go crazy!"

While she talked, Ann scratched, and Van laughed and Daddy Lorimer, after one startled moment of astonishment, succumbed to the charm of the ingenue, as he always does, and laughed with Van; and I and Martha looked at each other and laughed also, but not for the reasons that excited the men.

"Why wear 'em," I ventured, "if they're so horrid?"
"Why, what would I wear, Jane Lorimer? Do you expect me to go around looking as if I didn't know what's what in socks? Not me, dearie! Say, Jane, lend me a pair of silk ones while I'm here. I can't keep these on another second!"

"Lend her your goggles," put in Van.
"We used to wear goggles on the farm when I was a boy," Daddy remarked. "And now the girls put 'em on when the walks are dry, and there's neither snow, rain nor wind. We wore 'em from necessity—but the girls seem to wear 'em now to show how short their skirts are!"

"I say, I can't and I won't wear these stockings another minute!" Whereat, Ann untied her oxfords and kicked them off, and they barely skimmed past Daddy's nose without skinning it, before they landed against the wall back of Van!

"Young lady, what are you up to?" demanded Daddy.
"I'm taking 'em off! Jane, get me some silk ones, or I'll go barefoot!" Daddy Lorimer rose suddenly, and said in a joke back of which was a reprimand:

"Young lady, this is not a movie studio! Jane, take care of her!"

For the first time since she had been with us, Daddy Lorimer reminded Ann that her manners might be improved, and for the first time since I had known her, Mistress Ann accepted a criticism without a comment. Perhaps because Christmas was so near.

And for once I felt truly sorry for the babe, although she deserved her punishment, and I led her shoeless to my room and told her to help herself to any pair of my stockings she preferred.

She found some rose-red hose which I had once worn with a masquerade costume, and the rose-red satin pumps to match, and arrayed herself with delight, and rushed back to the up-stairs sitting room, and would have danced, to take Van's eyes from Martha's hair!

Her first pose was spoiled by the entrance of Bob's nurse.
"Mr. Lorimer is restless—he may wake at any moment."
"I'm going to him!" I said. Daddy rose to go with me, and I held my hand to him.

"Come, I need you, Daddy dear!" Indeed, I never had needed human comfort and support more than in that hour.

My future was at stake. If Bob, returning to consciousness, knew me and wanted me, then Paradise opened for me once more.

But if Bob did not recognize me, if he were to live again in the old dream world which followed his first case of shell-shock, and were to indulge, once more, his wandering fancy for my red-haired rival, then the gates of Paradise would be closed to me forever.

Never again would I exert myself to struggle with any living woman for the heart of a man.

On the threshold of my husband's room I paused, and put my head on Daddy Lorimer's shoulder, and kept very still until I could control my emotion.

TEXT OF HARDING MESSAGE

the protection of the revenues is in my judgment, a requisite to the revival of business activity in this country. It is earnestly hoped, therefore, that the congress will be able to enact without delay, a revision of the revenue laws and such emergency tariff measures as are necessary to protect American trade and industry.

It is of less concern whether international taxation or tariff revision should come first than has been both imagined, because we must do both, but the practical course for earliest accomplishment will readily suggest itself to the congress. We are committed to the repeal of the excess profits tax and the abolition of inequities and unjustifiable exasperations in the present system.

The country does not expect and will not approve a shifting of burdens. It is more interested in wiping out the necessity for imposing them and eliminating confusion and cost in the collection.

Need New Tariff

The urgency for an instant tariff enactment, emergency in character and understood by our people that it is for the emergency only, cannot be too much emphasized. I believe in the protection of American industry and it is our purpose to protect the American first. The privileges of the American market to the foreign producer are offered too cheaply today and the effect on much of our own productivity is the destruction of our self reliance, which is the foundation of the independence and good fortune of our people. Moreover, imports should pay their fair share of our cost of government.

One who values American prosperity and maintains American standards of wages and living can have no sympathy with the proposal that easy entry and flood of imports will cheapen our costs of living. It is more likely to destroy our capacity to buy. Today American agriculture is menaced and land and its products are down to pre-war normals, yet we are endangering our fundamental industry through the high cost of transportation. The influx of foreign farm products, because we offer, essentially unprotected, the best market in the world. It would be better to err in protecting our basic food industry than paralyze our farm activities in the world struggle for restored exchange.

The maturer revision of our tariff laws should be the policy of protection, resisting that selfishness which turns to greed, but ever concerned with that productivity at home which is the source of all abiding good fortune. It is agreed that we cannot sell unless we buy, but ability to sell is based on home consumption and the fostering of home markets. There is little sentiment in the trade of the world. Trade is a matter of sympathy, but it is known no sympathy.

While the delegates of the nations at war were debating peace terms at Paris and while we later debated our part in completion of the peace, commercial agents of other nations were opening their lines and establishing their outposts with a forward look to the morrow's trade.

Proper and have been advantageous to them. Tardy as we are it will be safer to hold our own markets secure and build thereon for our trade with the world.

A very important matter is the establishment of the government's business on a business basis. There was toleration of the easy going, unbusinesslike method of handling our fiscal affairs, when indirect taxation held the public unmindful of the federal burden. But there is knowledge of the high cost of government today and the high cost of living is inseparably linked with high cost of government. There can be no complete correction of the high living cost until government's cost is notably reduced.

Let me most heartily commend the enactment of legislation providing for the national budget system. Congress has already recorded its belief in the budget. It will be a very great satisfaction to know of its early enactment, so that it may be employed in establishing the economies and business methods so essential to the minimum of expenditure.

Assurance and Warning

I have said to the people we meant to have less of government in business as well as more business in government. It is well to have it understood that business has a right to pursue its normal, legitimate and righteous way unimpeded and it ought have no call to meet government competition where all risk is borne by the public treasury. There is no challenge to honest and lawful business success. But government approval of fortunate, untrammelled business does not mean toleration of restraint of trade or of maintained prices by unnatural methods. It is well to have legitimate business understand that a just government, mindful of the interests of all the people, has a right to expect the cooperation of that legitimate business in stamping out the practices which add to unrest and inspire restrictive legislation. Anxious as we are to restore the onward flow of business, it is fair to combine assurance and warning in one utterance.

One condition in the business world may well receive your inquiry.

The nation has been in progress but it has failed to reach the mark where it can be proclaimed to the great mass of consumers. Reduced cost of basic production has been recorded but high cost of living has not yielded in like proportion. For example, the prices on grain and livestock have been deflated, but the cost of bread and meats is not adequately reflected therein. It is to be expected that nonperishable staples will be slow in yielding to lowered prices, but the maintained retail costs in perishable foods cannot be justified.

Investigate Prices

I have asked the federal trade commission for a report of its observations and its attributes in the main, the failure to adjust consumers' demand to basic production costs to the exchange of information by "open price" associations which operate, evidently without intent, to the very great advantage of their members and equal disadvantage to the consuming public. Without the spirit of hostility or haste in accusation of profiteering, some suitable inquiry by congress might speed the price readjustment to normal relationship, with helpfulness of both producer and consumer. A measuring rod of fair prices will satisfy the country and give us a business revival to end all depression and unemployment.

The great interest of both the producer and consumer—indeed, all our agricultural and commercial life, from industry to finance—in the problems of transportation will find its reflex in your concern to aid to reestablish commerce, to restore efficiency and bring transportation cost into a helpful relation rather than continue it as a hindrance to resumed activities.

It is little to be wondered that all considered legislation, the war strain government operation in heedlessness of cost and the conflicting programs, or the lack of them, for restoration have brought about a most difficult situation, made doubly difficult by the low tide of business. All are so intimately related that no improvement will be permanent until the railroads are operated efficiently at a cost within that which the traffic can bear.

If we can have it understood that congress does not levy taxes upon the people to cover deficits in a service which should be self-sustaining, there will be an avowed foundation on which to rebuild.

Freight carrying charges have mounted higher and higher until commerce is halted and production discouraged. Railway rates and costs of operation must be reduced.

Remove Obstacles

Congress may well investigate and let the public understand wherein our system and the federal regulations are lacking in helpfulness or hindering in restrictions. The remaining obstacles which are the heritage of capitalistic exploitation must be removed and labor must join management in understanding that the public which pays the highways to be served and simple justice is the right and will continue to be the right of all the people.

Transportation over the highways is little less important but the problems relate to construction and development and deserve your most earnest attention because we are laying a foundation for a long time to come and the creation is very difficult to visualize in its great possibilities.

The highways are not only feeders to the railways and afford relief from their local burdens, they are actually lines of motor traffic in interstate commerce. They are the smaller arteries of the larger portion of our commerce and the motorcar has become an indispensable instrument in our political, social and industrial life.

There is begun a new era in highway construction, the outlay which runs far into hundreds of millions of dollars. Bond issues by road districts, counties and states mount to enormous figures, and the country is facing such an outlay that it is vital that every effort shall be directed against wasted effort and unjustifiable expenditure.

Shape Road Policies

The federal government can place no inhibition on the expenditure in several states but since congress has embarked upon a policy of insisting the states in highway improvement, wisely, I believe it can assert a becoming influence in shaping policy.

With the principal of federal participation acceptably established, probably never to be abandoned, it is important to exert federal influence in developing comprehensive plans looking to the promotion of commerce and apply our expenditures in the surest way to guarantee a public return for money expended.

Large federal outlay demands a federal voice in the program of expenditure. Congress cannot justify a mere gift from the federal purse to the several states to be pro-rated among counties for road betterment. Such a course will invite abuses which it were better to guard against in the beginning.

The laws governing federal aid should be amended and strengthened. The federal agency of administration should be elevated to the importance and vested with authority comparable to the work before it. And congress ought to prescribe conditions to federal appropriations which will necessitate a consistent program of uniformity which will justify the federal outlay. A knowledge of nothing more than the millions of public funds wasted in improved highways, wasted because there is no policy of maintenance. The neglect is not universal but it is very near it. There is nothing the congress can do more effectively to end this shocking waste than condition all federal aid upon provisions for maintenance. Highways, no matter how generous the outlay for construction, cannot be maintained without patrol and constant repair. Such conditions insisted upon in the grant of federal aid will safeguard the public which pays and guard the federal government against political abuses, which tend to defeat the very purposes for which we authorize federal expenditure.

Landed with rail and highway is the problem of water transportation—inland, coastwise and trans-oceanic.

Big Merchant Marine

It is not possible on this occasion to suggest to congress the additional legislation needful to meet the aspirations of our people for a merchant marine. In the emergency of war we have constructed a tonnage equal to our largest expectations. Its war cost must be discounted to the actual values of peace and the large difference charged to the war emergency and the pressing task is to turn our assets in loaning to an agency of commerce.

It is not necessary to say to congress, but I have thought this to be a fitting occasion to give notice that our largest States means to establish and maintain a great merchant marine.

Our difference of opinion as to a policy of upbuilding have been removed by the outstanding fact of our having builded. If the intelligent and efficient administration under the existing laws makes established service impossible, the executive will promptly report you. Manifestly if our laws governing American activities on the seas are such as to give advantage to those who compete with us for the carrying of our own cargoes and those which ought naturally to come in American bottoms, through trade exchanges, then the spirit of American fair play will assert itself to give American carriers their equality of opportunity.

It is proper to invite your attention to the importance of the question of radio communication and cables. To meet strategic, commercial and political needs, active encouragement should be given to the extension of American owned and operated cable and radio service. Between the United States and its possessions there should be ample communication facilities providing direct services at reasonable rates. Between the United States and other countries not only should there be adequate facilities but these should be, so far as practicable, direct and free from foreign intermediation. Friendly cooperation should be extended to international efforts aimed at encouraging improvement of international communication facilities and designed to further the exchange of messages. Private monopolies tend to prevent the development of needed facilities should be prohibited. Government owned facilities, wherever possible without undue interfering with private enterprise or government needs, should be made available for general use. Particularly desirable is the provision of ample cable and radio services at reasonable rates for the transmission of press matter so that the American reader may receive a wide range of news and the foreign reader receive full accounts of American activities.

The daily press of all countries may well be put in position to contribute to international understanding by the publication of interesting foreign news.

Real Need for Radio

Practical experience demonstrates the need for effective recognition of both domestic and international radio operation if this never means of communication is to be fully utilized. Especially needful is the provision of ample radio facilities for the services where radio only can be used, such as communication with ships at sea, with aircraft and with out of the way places. International communication by cable and radio requires cooperation between the powers concerned. Whatever the degree of control exercised by government licensing of cable landings and of radio stations transmitting and receiving international traffic seems necessary for the protection of American interests and for the securing of satisfactory reciprocal privileges.

Aviation is inseparable from either the army or the navy and the government must, in the interests of national defense, encourage its development for military and civil purposes. The encouragement of the civil development of aeronautics is especially desirable as relieving the government largely of the expense of development, and of maintenance of an industry, now almost entirely borne by the government through appropriations for the military, naval and postal air service. The air mail service is an important initial step in the direction of commercial aviation.

It has become a pressing duty of the federal government to provide for the regulation of air navigation; otherwise independent and conflicting legislation will be enacted by the various states which will hamper the development of aviation. The national advisory committee for aeronautics in a special report on this subject, has recommended the establishment of a bureau of aeronautics in the department of commerce for the federal regulation of air navigation, which recommendation ought to have legislative approval. I recommend the enactment of legislation establishing a bureau of aeronautics in the navy department to centralize the control of naval activities in aeronautics and removing the restrictions on the personnel detailed to aviation in the navy.

The army air service should be continued as a coordinate combatant of the navy and in cooperation with the navy in the establishment of local aerodromes and landing fields.

The American people expect congress unflinchingly to voice the gratitude of the republic in a generous and practical way to its defenders in the world war, who need the support of an army of the government. Our very immediate concern is for the crippled soldiers and those deeply needing the helping hand of the government. Conscious of the generous intent of congress and the public, I invited the services of a volunteer committee to inquire into the bureau of war risk insurance, the federal board for vocational training and with other agencies of government in caring for the ex-soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war, the chief difficulty to be the imperfect organization of governmental effort. The same lack of coordination which has given to the crippled and dependent, I invited the services of a volunteer committee to inquire into the bureau of war risk insurance, the federal board for vocational training and with other agencies of government in caring for the ex-soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war, the chief difficulty to be the imperfect organization of governmental effort. # CITY PAYS AVERAGE PRICES FOR MILK

Slight Decline in Wholesale and Retail Prices During March.

Milk prices in Appleton remain the same this month as in March. The monthly report of the state division of markets, Madison shows that there has been little variation in the whole sale price. Farmers in this locality have received $2.45 a hundred pounds and dealers have paid 9 1/2 c a quart. The price to the consumer remains 11 cents.

Outagamie county dairymen appear fortunate in receiving a price of $2.45. Only four cities in centers away from farms have a higher producer price. All others pay the farmer less. Ashland, Madison, Milwaukee and Wausau pay 10 cents a quart retail. Three other cities pay the same as Appleton. Others pay 12, 13 and 14 cents a quart.

Milk business in some cities has been featured by "milk wars," the market body's report says. Prices paid farmers have dropped from an average in the state of $2.53 a hundred to $2.45 a hundred pounds. Superior pays the highest price for milk and Madison the lowest. The state average city price to consumers dropped from 11 1/2 cents in February to 11 cents in March.

The table below shows the comparative wholesale and retail prices.

City	Price to Producer (per 100 lbs.)	Price to Consumer (per quart)
Appleton	$2.45	11
Ashland	2.50	10
Beloit	2.55	11
Chippewa Falls	2.50	12
Kenosha	2.90	15
Madison	2.00	10
Milwaukee	2.25	10
Oshkosh	2.40	12
Wausau	2.30	11
Superior	3.00	14

Old Timers Will Recall Firemen Of Other Days

In his annual report to the commission council 25 years ago today, E. L. Anderson, chief of the fire department, who met his death in the fire that threatened the destruction of the Kimberly mill a few months later, said that his department had responded to 59 calls during the year, 38 box, 18 telephone and 15 still alarms.

Truck company No. 1 had run 142 miles, worked 186 hours, and raised 2,121 feet of ladders. Hose company No. 1 had run 123 miles, worked 150 hours and laid 45,500 feet of hose. Hose company No. 2 had run 79 miles, worked 131 hours and laid 19,706 feet of hose.

The number of alarms each month were: April, 8; May, 11; June, 15; July, 3; August, 6; September, 8; October, 10; November, 1; December, 7; January, 7; February, 4; March, 10. Total loss by fire was $6,793 and total insurance, $417,350. The hand chain ical was used 11 times.

The organization of the department was Hook and ladder truck George Vogel, captain, George McGillan, driver, John Conroy, tillerman, Gus Whitefoot, axman Peter Schwebach and Joseph Searetor, truckmen.

Hose Co. No. 1, William Thompson, captain, Michael Calvin, driver, Tip Merénes and Charles Kormig, pipemen, Nic Reider and Michael Spielbauer, hydrantmen.

Hose Co. No. 2, Charles Kuhn, captain; John Schultz, driver, Thomas Day and Theodore Kenney, pipemen, Michael Calni and Max Wissho, hydrantmen.

The officers and firemen were fortunate as to injury and death," said the chief, "only a few having suffered slight bruises during the year. The duties assigned to each were discharged with promptness and courage."

HOLD LAST RITES FOR ARGONNE HERO

Large Number of Former Service Men Attend Weiss Funeral Services.

Public funeral services for the late Private Raymond Weiss hero of the Argonne were held at 2 o'clock Saturday in the city hall with Dr. H. D. Peabody and the Rev. L. R. Burrows in charge. Burial was in Hortonville cemetery.

Grouped about the casket were relatives of Weiss his comrades in the Rainbow division and members of Onev Johnston post of the American Legion. The veterans assembled at Elk hall, most of them in uniform, and marched in a body to the city hall headed by the firing squad. A large number of people thronged Soldier square to witness the services.

Dr. Peabody delivered a masterly eulogy over the body of the late hero. He paid tribute to Weiss and the comrades who perished with him in the great sacrificial struggle for humanity.

Six uniformed Rainbow division men acted as pallbearers. The body was conveyed to Hortonville, headed by a procession of about 25 automobile loads of legion members. A brief eulogy was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Burrows, based on the text, "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend." A rifle volley was fired and taps sounded by a bugle as the body was lowered.

Legion members expressed their thanks and appreciation to the Appleton citizens who loaned the use of their automobiles for the afternoon. Enough cars were provided to carry all who wished to go to Hortonville for the burial services.

ELKS TO MAKE BIG PLANS FOR FALL

Enlargement of Building and Other Matters Will Be Discussed at Supper.

Plans for one of the most active years in the history of Elk club will be formulated at a supper and meeting of newly elected and appointed officers, standing committees, past exalted rulers and others at 6:15 Wednesday evening in Elk hall. Arrangements for the event are in charge of Stephen D. Balliet, chairman of the entertainment committee.

One of the most important matters to be presented is that of adding four bowling alleys to accommodate the Elk state tournament here next winter. It resolves itself into a question of whether to build them in the present basement or to build an addition to the building. Opinions obtained by several Elk members lean toward the idea of a 2 story addition to conform to the present structure. This would require an expenditure of about $30,000.

Activities for the coming year will be discussed. Definite plans will be made and a program adopted carrying out the idea of having the work fully organized before the spring session closes. Invitations were issued Monday afternoon by Daniel P. Steinberg, exalted ruler, urging a full attendance.

ORANGES TOO CHEAP TO PAY FOR PICKING

Otto Thiessenhusen Says Thousands of Oranges Were Permitted to Rot.

"Large quantities of oranges went to waste because growers said it did not pay to pick them," said Otto Thiessenhusen, who with his wife has just returned from a six months' visit to Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Thiessenhusen were members of the Stowe party that made the trip last fall in automobiles.

Mr. Thiessenhusen said owners of orchards claimed there was more money in permitting oranges that had fallen to the ground to decay than in saving them because it made those on the trees more valuable and this policy was followed by the majority of growers.

Oranges dropped from a fair price early in the winter to one dollar a case which growers claimed were the cheapest they had been for some time. As cheap as oranges are at the points of shipment Mr. Thiessenhusen said in other parts of Florida they are nearly as expensive as they are in Wisconsin.

The Appleton party spent the winter at Orlando. Mr. and Mrs. Thiessenhusen rented a cottage and had their own vegetables and fruit. The country is not adapted to farming, but large quantities of fruit and vegetables are raised which are shipped to the northern states. Strawberries were on the market all winter.

Toured the State

With several others Mr. and Mrs. Thiessenhusen made a four days' automobile trip through the state that covered most of the winter resorts. All the hotels were crowded with tourists and prices at some of the cities were exorbitant while in others they were very reasonable. At Orlando rents were reasonable but meals were high while at St. Petersburg it was the reverse.

One peculiar thing about the coast line of Florida is that most of the resorts are on islands which are

CATTLE THINNER THIS SPRING; TOO MUCH CABBAGE

In spite of the fact there was an abundance of feed Outagamie cattle generally did not winter well and some of them are thinner this spring than they were ever known to be before. In figuring out the cause those who claim to know assign it to overfeeding of cabbage which was so cheap that farmers claimed it did not pay them to haul their crop to town.

reached by bridges. While on their automobile trip the Appleton tourists spent much of their time on the beaches at watering places. Mr. Thiessenhusen said the race riot on election day in which several were killed was only about 14 miles from where he was located. The trouble was started by a Negro who was not permitted to vote because he had not paid his poll tax.

Other members of the party are still in Florida and it is not certain they will return north this spring. All cities are growing rapidly by reason of the constantly increasing tourist business and all kinds of opportunity are offered for making money. Real estate is increasing by leaps and bounds.

Miss Blanch Hutchinson, Omsby hall, entertained Miss Margaret Molarfy of Marion over the weekend.

Falls 20 Feet From Window; Boy Is Unhurt

Matt Rossmelst, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rossmelst, 949 Prospect-st., miraculously escaped serious injury when he fell from the window of a sleeping porch on the second floor of the Rossmelst home Saturday afternoon.

The Rossmelst boy was playing near the window and leaning too far out lost his balance and fell to the ground, about 20 feet John, his 7-year-old brother, who witnessed the fall immediately ran to their mother for aid.

Mrs. Rossmelst hastily summoned a physician who said a bruise of the right knee was the only injury. The boy was playing about the house an hour after the accident as though nothing had happened.

Girls Are Alarmed

Lawrence coeds living at Smith dormitory have become greatly alarmed by alleged night prowlers who have disturbed the slumbers of the girls by flashing lights into the rooms on the lower floor and loitering about the building. A call was sent for the police but when the men arrived they found no one.

FARMERS BEGIN BUILDING AS PRICES START FALLING

Now that prices of material have dropped a large number of farmers of the county have decided to go ahead with the building of new barns. Among those who will begin work upon foundations at once are Fred Wagner of Grand Chute and Otto Zschachner of Greenville. John Rehfeldt of Grand Chute has just completed a new barn and Levi Hoh of Grand Chute has just finished raising his barn and putting on a new roof. Several new residences will also be built.

STATE INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN APPLETON

Fourth Meeting to Discuss Welfare Employees to Be Held Here in May.

This year's Wisconsin Industrial Service conference will be held in Appleton, May 9 to 11, according to an announcement by the industrial commission. This is the fourth conference of this kind, all the previous ones having been held at Milwaukee. At the urgent request of employers in the Fox river valley it was decided to hold this year's conference in this section of the state.

Wisconsin is a pioneer in the industrial service work in factories. Nearly all large employers in Wisconsin have personnel departments, service departments, or safety or employment departments, all of which have for their purpose the improvement of working conditions. During the war period this Wisconsin idea spread throughout the country, but with the industrial depression many plants which operated personnel departments for the purpose of attracting and holding help have now abandoned the same. This is not true in Wisconsin, however, where it is recognized that departments of this kind are as necessary in periods of depression as in periods of labor shortage.

The industrial service conferences annually conducted by the industrial commission, are intended primarily for employers, employment managers and service workers, but are of value also to other persons interested in industrial problems. Last year's conference at Milwaukee had an attendance of over 200, and with the conference in another part of the state, an even better attendance is expected.

MILWAUKEE BOARD TO JOIN REALTORS

Important Matters Are to Be Considered at Meeting of Realty Officers.

Application of the Milwaukee Real Estate board for membership in the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers will be considered at a meeting of the executive committee and past presidents of the association called for 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 19, in Madison by Daniel P. Steinberg, state president.

This will be the first meeting of the newly elected officers and chairmen since the recent state convention in Appleton. There are many important matters to be discussed and favorable action is expected on most of them. These include the proposed northern summer park for World war veterans, the proposed state parks and a reforestation move based on the recent conference in Milwaukee.

A movement also will be started to make Wisconsin's delegation at the coming Chicago convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards one of the largest in attendance. A plan will be worked out whereby special trains will be engaged to bring delegations to Milwaukee from the Fox river valley, from Superior through Eau Claire from western points, and from other sections. All the delegates will change to a special at Milwaukee and will be accompanied by one of the large Wisconsin bands, according to present plans.

C. OF C. COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED TODAY

Standing committees of the chamber of commerce for the coming year were to be appointed by the executive committee at a meeting Tuesday noon.

A meeting of the board of directors is to be held Thursday noon in the French room of the Sherman house, at which plans for the April forum meeting will be discussed.

ORDER INQUEST IN ROHLOFF ACCIDENT

An inquest was ordered Tuesday by F. V. Heinemann, district attorney, into causes and circumstances connected with the accidental death Monday morning of Mrs. H. J. Rohloff when struck by Hopfensperger brothers truck driven by Lawrence Steffen. Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, coroner, was consulted Monday concerning the matter. He inquired about the accident and believing the driver was not to blame, decided that no inquest need be held. Mr. Heinemann, while supporting the belief that Steffen would be exonerated from blame, decided that the case was serious and that the investigation should be conducted to establish the facts conclusively.

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWAREY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

Letters like the above do influence women to try

TWO COUNTIES REFUSE TO EMPLOY A NURSE

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—Word has reached the State Board of Health unofficially that the county boards of Portage and Waushara counties have refused to make appropriations to provide for the employment of county public health nurses as required by law by July 1. The state board of health will be able before July 1 to provide each county with a certified public health nurse and will doubtless see to it that the law is rigidly enforced. It is reported here that unless the county boards of Portage and Waushara counties make provision before July 1 for the employment of a nurse the matter will be taken into court by a resident of the county to compel the board by mandamus to comply with the law. The legislature of 1919 passed the bill requiring all counties to employ such a nurse by July 1, 1921, and the present legislature by a decided vote killed the Lamb bill making it optional with the county boards.

the T. M. C. A. to decide several questions relative to the interfactory baseball schedule. The official league ball will be adopted and a decision in regard to purchasing the balls for the league will be made.

An agreement as to umpire fees will be sought and plans will be made for the purchase of equipment.

The first game will be played Saturday, May 14. The schedule is not yet arranged. All entries must be in before Saturday evening, and after that the schedule will be formulated.

Condition Improving

The condition of Mrs. C. Kerkhoff of Kimberly who was badly burned Monday morning at her home was reported as not serious Tuesday morning. She was able to be removed to another home and it is expected she will recover very shortly.

"Start a Business of Your Own"

We are Establishing a Chain of Stores, One in Each Town

We are looking for one good man or woman to represent our "PHONOGRAPH RECORD EXCHANGE CLUB" in your town. Applicant must be able to rent or share part of store space with some merchant and put in a stock of records, also Sample Phonograph. Any one young or old, with a little business experience can easily establish a permanent business that will pay from $200 to $500 a month. Under our plan customers pay only 10 cents for each record exchanged; most every owner of a phonograph will be glad to exchange their used Records for others and pay 10 cents each.

We will also show you how to sell "NEW RECORDS" for 65 cents at a profit.

It will require an investment of $200 on your part to pay for the Records, Sample Phonograph, advertising matter, store fixtures, rent, etc. This you can pay after receiving samples. Here is a chance for you to start a business of your own, in your own town with a small investment and make good wages. "YOU CANNOT LOSE."

Merchants can get in on this too. We have a large number of merchants who handle our EXCHANGE CLUB in connection with their regular line. If you have about 15x10 floor space and 4x4 shelf space you can add from $6.00 to $15.00 a day to your profit.

"We only want one representative in each town. Our representative will be in your town in a few days and will be glad to talk it over with you. Write today for full particulars. Address:

Phonograph Record Exchange Co.

URGES INSURANCE TO PROVIDE PAY FOR UNEMPLOYED

University of Wisconsin Man Discusses Huber Unemployment Bill.

An audience of not more than 100 men filled the front row seats at St. Joseph's hall Monday night to hear Allen J. Forsberg, instructor of economics at the University of Wisconsin, in his address on unemployment and the Huber Unemployment Prevention bill, which is now pending before the Wisconsin legislature.

Forsberg urged support of the Huber bill and based his opinion on the solution of the unemployment problem on its passage. He declared that industry alone can prevent unemployment and that steps should be taken in this direction at this time when unemployment is at its height.

"This is no particular plea to any class of people," stated Forsberg. "The Huber bill is a measure that appeals to every class. There are 150,000 unemployed in the state which means that almost one-third of the workers are out of work."

"We cannot face this social problem and call it a radical movement. The steady job to the worker is important and the idea of division of property or wealth means nothing to him. Steady employment is necessary and that is the problem which faces America."

Scores Socialism
Forsberg in scoring the Socialists stated that this movement had not proved popular to the worker because of its policy of the division of property and wealth.

"Tearing out soup to the unemployed is not very effective or constructive," continued Forsberg. The job of the worker is the axle upon which the whole industrial world turns.

"We have 25 years of observation to look back upon and in all these years, where at various times such problems as the one we now face, nothing has actually been done to relieve these conditions."

"The country also suffers from a crime wave and it is proven by statistics that where the unemployment was great the crime wave had increased. There is a direct connection between the two."

Based on Study
"There have been many solutions suggested for the unemployment problem but not one of them had been based on previous study. The extending of public works has been suggested but this is not an efficient method for in this case the tax payer would have to pay and he is not responsible for unemployment. It has also been suggested to send the men on the farms which is unreasonable to the worker. In the State of Illinois where this idea had been carried out less than one-half of the men sent on the farms remained more than 30 days. This proved to be a loss to the farmer."

"A constructive measure, such as the Huber bill, is necessary for the removing of conditions that bring about unemployment. By regularizing industry is the only solution to unemployment."

Forsberg explained the Huber bill in detail. The fundamental assumption of the Huber bill is that industry

Lady Druggist's Advice Taken

"My sister-in-law is a druggist. She told me of several bad stomach and liver cases which were benefited by taking May's Wonderful Remedy and advised me to try it. I had numerous bad attacks due to bloating and had almost constant pain in my stomach before getting your remedy. I am feeling fine now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—All druggists. adv.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferers perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parment is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results are given nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial. adv.

MISSION COMMITTEE LEADS Y. P. A. CONTEST

Continuing its lead in the motivated contest of the Young Peoples Alliance of the Evangelical church, the mission committee has gained a total of 621 points according to reports presented at the weekly meeting Sunday evening. The social, literary and culture committee is running a close second with 611 points.

The society voted to discontinue the contest until after the approaching evangelistic meetings, because it would be impossible to keep up the same interest with attention diverted to the other gatherings.

An interesting address on "The Sabbath—a Holy Day Holiday?" was given by the Rev. C. F. Rabehl. He said the sabbath was an institution as well as the home or church. Any desecration of the day would be the same as disrespecting the sanctity of the home or the reverence toward the church.

Music was furnished by Polzin orchestra.

Sees Car Overtaken

While on his way home from Menasha at 8 o'clock Monday evening can prevent unemployment and unemployment will not be done away with until there is an inducement to do so.

This unemployment-prevention bill is drawn up on lines similar to the Wisconsin compensation law. It provides for a mutual insurance company into which the employer will pay a small sum amounting to about one-half of 1 per cent of his payroll.

This mutual insurance company will pay $1.50 for each working day that the employee is out of work for a period of 13 weeks. The bill also provides for a state advisory board to facilitate harmonious administration. The state of Wisconsin already possesses all the necessary commissions, boards and state officers for the administration of this act.

ALBION BLOCK IS SOLD TO L. W. LUTZ

L. W. Lutz of the Lutz Ice Co. closed a deal Monday by which he came into possession of the Albion block on Morrison-st. The purchase was made from the Albion Land Co., which also formerly owned the former bank building at the corner of College-ave. and Morrison-st., recently sold to J. E. Voigt. The consideration was private. The office of Lutz Ice Co. has been located in the Albion block for the last two years and Mr. Lutz said he purchased the property to protect himself. He does not expect to make any immediate changes in either the tenants or building.

Mikado Company Has Plan For Footlight Aspirants

Local singers who cherish an ambition to go on the operatic stage will be given an opportunity to test their ability when the Ralph Dunbar production, "The Mikado," plays in Appleton theater Wednesday evening. Telephone appointments may be made with Henry J. Gribler, manager, for a hearing on that day.

Mr. Dunbar, producer of the Mikado, is seeking new talent continually. Desiring American singers, he searches each new city or town where his plays are presented, often finding obscure vocalists with inherent talents. His representatives with the company will test the voices of all who apply.

One New London young lady, Miss Beatrice Knapstein, was given her start in the theatrical world by Mr. Dunbar. She engaged with the Chocolate Soldier company, a Dunbar play which was staged here last year, and made a hit with her Appleton audience.

Unique in theatrical annals is the fact that the Mikado company has a woman press agent, Miss Nell Voglesang. She visited Appleton arranging for the publicity for the coming play with the skill and experience of the usual masculine promoter. Only one other woman publicity manager has been known to appear in Appleton newspaper offices, and she was employed by a circus.

THE STAGE

The Mikado
Ralph Dunbar, the Chicagoan who revives operas, puts them on perfectly, no matter what the cost, and then counts his earnings by the thousands, is a past master for detail. He personally supervises the designing of all costumes, the arrangement and building of the scenery, works out the best light effects and conducts rehearsals from early morning until late at night.

His latest production—the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera "The Mikado"—will be the attraction at Appleton Theatre, April 13 and it is quite possible that the producer will be here in person. He won't stand at the front door of the theatre immaculately clad in dress clothes. Should you seek him the chances are that he would be found helping the property men or playing the cello in the augmented orchestra.

Quite recently the attraction played the Grand Opera House in Cincinnati and Manager John Haylin, long a warm personal friend of Mr. Dunbar, looked through the front of the house for him without avail. Then he went to the stage but Dunbar was not visible.

"Where is that good looking boss of yours?" he asked of Ed Andrews, the veteran opera singer who has the role of "Ko-Ko."

"Our cello player is sick tonight and Dunbar is down in the orchestra pit, playing the instrument," came the reply.

Dunbar is what might be called an "all around" man. He can act and he can sing; he can build properties and design costumes and is a mighty good scene painter. And furthermore, he is the best judge of vocal talent in the United States today.

ALL DEMPSEY, BIG BILL BRENNAN SAYS

Frenchman Can't Stand Champion's Sledgehammer Walloping, He Believes.

By Henry Farrell
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—"Four rounds will be enough and a decision won't be needed for the winner."

So says Bill Brennan, the big Chicago heavyweight, about the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

Brennan met Dempsey twice. Six rounds the first time and twelve rounds the second. He thinks he ought to know something about the champion.

"Carpentier is fast enough to keep away from Dempsey for about three rounds but he'll get it no later than the fourth," Brennan said here Tuesday.

"The Frenchman is a wonderful boxer but he's not rugged enough to take the wallop that Dempsey is bound to get over on him. Carpentier is not a lot heavier now than when he was taking a lacing from all the American middleweights."

"Yes, Carpentier can punch but I don't believe he can hit a whole lot harder than I can. In our last fight I hit Dempsey square on the jaw three times with every ounce of strength I had and he didn't go down. I had him groggy in the third round but he came right back."

Likes Fight Site
Madison—George Carpentier is pleased with the selection of New Jersey as the site for his meeting with Jack Dempsey for the world's championship, he said here Tuesday.

He has booked passage for America on May 7.

BELOIT GOES HITLESS AS BADGER TEAM WINS

Madison—Beloit failed to get a hit off Miller and Paddock in seven innings, with Wisconsin, university at Camp Randall field Monday afternoon. The Cardinals collected thirteen runs against the Beloit cipher.

The game showed the Badgers to be wicketed with the bat and alive in the field but not so sure in base running.

Boxers Will Be In Best of Condition For Big Battle

Eddie McGoorty

Mighty few boxers have been prominent in the sport world longer than Eddie McGoorty Oshkosh middleweight, who mixes with Bud Gorman in Armory G next Thursday night. Eddie has been battling for many years and today still is considered one of the classiest middleweights in the world. He is being groomed to box Johnny Wilson for the middleweight title if Wilson will give him a match.

McGoorty is not afraid to go out of his class after opponents. Gorman will outweigh him several pounds but the Oshkosh man's superior skill and experience is expected to offset the weight disadvantage.

The state boxing commission, which is taking a keen interest in the scrap, has notified the boxers to remain at their training quarters until they are given a thorough examination by the board's physician. The men also will be sent through a ten round mill with men selected by the commission to determine their staying powers. Walter Leisinger, chairman of the commission, is determined the men shall be in the best of condition for the fray here.

This order from the commission

SHORT SPORTS

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Tex Rickard went on a tour of New Jersey Tuesday looking over the sites that Newark and Jersey City have to offer for the Dempsey-Carpentier battle.

Shifty Logan Wins
Memphis—Shifty Logan, Memphis lightweight, decisively defeated Mercy Montez, San Antonio, Texas, here Monday night in eight fast rounds.

Gets Decision
New Orleans—Frankie Farron, California, outfought and won a 15 round decision over Pal Moran, New Orleans, here Monday night.

Roller Skate Race
Chicago—Six heats, two semi-finals and a half mile final will mark the opening of the world's amateur champion roller skating races here tonight. The races will continue until April 16. Forty-two speedsters are entered in the various events.

SOX AND CUBS READY FOR SEASON'S OPENING

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Manager John Evers and his Cubs arrived in Chicago Tuesday.

The team will work out Tuesday preparatory to opening the season Wednesday against St. Louis.

The Cubs wound up their spring training trip at Rock Island Monday by beating the Rock Island club, 17 to 1.

The White Sox squad left here Tuesday for Detroit where they will open the American league season Wednesday.

Manager Kid Gleason gave his tribe a stiff workout Monday and announced his men were in the pink of condition.

About 500 people are killed and 800 injured by boiler explosions every year in this country.

probably will delay arrival of the boxers until the morning of the fight.

Chicago Fans Coming

Reservations for seats have been received from as far away as Milwaukee, Kenosha and Chicago. Both men have followers in those cities who are anxious to see them in action. Indications are every seat in the armory will be sold the day before the fight.

Interest among local fans in the battle is increasing. Gorman's friends insist the big boy will be in the best shape of his career and that Eddie's punches lack the steam of other days but many sport critics declare the Oshkosh man still packs a wicked kick in either mitt and that he is able to knock out the ordinary battler with one punch. He is glutton for punishment and knows how to exchange blows.

Neenah and Menasha fans are displaying a keen interest in the mill. Gorman formerly lived at Menasha and of course has many friends there. Boxing is keenly appreciated in the Twin cities which claims to be the home of two mighty clever lightweights, Jabber Jung and Chick Kernick. It is not strange, therefore, that dozens of Twin City fans will come here for the scrap.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HOLD SPRING PRACTICE

Daily practice is being held by students of the high school who wish to make the track team this season. Four letter men are back, getting out boys in various phases of athletic activity. Harold Brees, who won his letter last season for hurdling, Arnold Purvis, who received his letter for long distance running, Dan Courtney, honored for pole-vauling and sprinting are on the field again. Aaron Gehring, also an "A" man for high jumping and high hurdles, is out for track.

Coach Vincent has not decided whether the team will be entered in interscholastic events. It is probable, however, that Appleton will enter the Sheboygan meet, in which it won second place last season.

Hard Fought Scrap
Madison—Tony Dennis, Milwaukee lightweight, defeated Battling Loukes also of that city, Monday night in a ten round bout that went the limit despite continuous hard punching.

Swear Off TOBACCO

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or a chew of that city, Monday night in a ten round bout that went the limit despite continuous hard punching.

Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

DOESN'T TRAIN BUT HE ALWAYS IS WINNER

Charley Paddock Violates Running Rules But He Gets There First.

Los Angeles.—Charley Paddock—fastest human on earth—doesn't train to run.

He just runs. But he gets there ahead of the other fellows.

"That's what counts. The quickest way to get to the tape is the only principle of running that I follow," says Paddock.

"Coaches say I violate all laws of running to gain speed. But that makes no difference to me. They can't change me. My motto is GET THERE FIRST. Leap at Tape."

"That's why I leap at the tape in the final stride."

Paddock is a student at the University of Lower California. In a dual meet between him and Stanford University on March 26 the flyer equaled the world's record of 9.5 seconds for the 100-yard dash and broke the record for the 220-yard dash of 21.15 seconds established by Bernie Wefers 25 years ago.

Paddock's new time for the 220 was 20.45 seconds. Four days later he ran at Stanford and did the 220 in 21 flat.

Paddock is high strung. He is always at high tension days before a race. As he gets set on the mark his body quivers and trembles like that of a blue blood.

"Coaches say he is a human storage battery with latent energy available when the demand calls upon him."

Paddock is superstitious. Before starting a race he must first touch wood and raise his hands high above his head three times before starting. But the most remarkable thing about Paddock—the fastest human on earth—is that he runs to get there first.

How he gets there doesn't matter to him. When in action his feet are far out ahead. With his arms and hands stretched high he flops them like a bird does its wings. His hands help propel him through the air.

His stride measures 7.12 feet as compared to six feet for the usual sprinter.

There is joy in Boston. Stuffy McInnis and Derrill Pratt have returned to the fold and the Red Sox now have all the earmarks of a first class aggregation. Both of these men are infielders extraordinary and they rate with the stars of either circuit. What a difference two men make!

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Der Tag!

Since war last fall several million men, women and kids have been waiting for the return of the day when a blue suited individual would walk out from the shadows of immense stands, strut to a keystone shaped object buried in the ground at the intersection of two white lines, brush the dirt off this object and then turn toward the stands with this:

"Batteries for today's game are .... Play ball!"

Tomorrow is Der Tag!

Waterloo high is pulling the college stuff. They have started spring football practice and a squad of some forty odd candidates is booting the old pigskin around the gridiron. This is something new in state scholastic gridiron circles but it is a good bet that it will produce results when the championship games roll around in the fall.

We've got a hunch that it won't be long before some of the other schools try this training stunt.

Unless all signs fail, Wisconsin is going to turn out a ball team this season which will rank with the best in the conference. For a number of years, the Badgers have sort of been in the ruck when it came to walloping the old pill but this time out they have a bunch of sluggers and Madison is beginning to have visions of a title winning nine. Its been quite a while since Wisconsin copped conference honors on the diamond but the tribe Capt. Elliott has got together this spring looks like championship material.

One of the sport scribes in Chicago the other day asked Comiskey what he thought of his Darned Sox and the old Roman replied, "They'll play square." That's the whole story in a nutshell. We all can stand for a loser but when the crooks get into a sport, its all off. If even the Sox finish in first place, Comiskey will be a whole lot more proud of 'em than his glit edged clan of 1913 who laid down and let the Redlegs walk all over them for a sake of the almighty dollar.

Jack Johnson, he of the ebony hue, will shake the dust of Leavenworth prison off his jeans July 5 and once more start to roam the country. The big black plans to enter the ring again but he is apt to find that a term in jail and a bit of scandal has knocked the "pop" out of his popularity. Our hunch may be wrong but we've got an idea that Johnson will find as much trouble getting bouts as the Black Sox have in getting back into organized baseball.

GIANTS LOOM UP AS FORMIDABLE SQUAD

McGraw Has Splendid Aggregation of Veterans and Rookies This Year.

By Frank Graham

New York—With the lame and the halt in uniform again and not quite as lame and halting as they were a week ago, the Giants are picking up about where they left off when they ran into their series of mishaps. The Giant infield is composed of young, seasoned players and it ought to be the best infield the Giants have had in a number of years.

George Kelly at first base, is one of the most improved players in the league. Frank Frisch should be the best second baseman in the league.

Dave Bancroft removes all worry about shortstop and at third base, Goldie Rapp promises to be a sensation.

The outfield will be composed of George Burns in left field, Young in right and either Walker or Brown in center. Burns is still the best left fielder in baseball.

Young constantly is getting better

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects

BELIEVE RAWSAM LED POLICE ON A WILD GOOSE CHASE

Dragging of River for Body of Supposed Suicide Has Been Abandoned.

Chief George T. Prim and members of the police department are convinced that Fred Rawsam, whose overcoat was found on the bank of the Fox River Monday morning, is alive and that he perpetrated a hoax on the department. Investigation has disclosed that Rawsam was seen after the coat was found and it is believed he is in St. Paul. The fact that he took his diamond ring and money from his room on Franklin-st. is further evidence that he had no intention of ending his life, police say.

In a pocket in the overcoat was found a note which instructed the finder to take it to the home of a relative "who would know the rest." This, police believed, indicated he had committed suicide and dragging of the river was started. Dozens of volunteers assisted in the work until late Monday night.

Tuesday morning police learned that Rawsam had been loitering around the Northwestern depot, inquiring about trains for St. Paul and had purchased a ticket to Appleton Junction where he stopped for a conversation with Joseph Schultz, section foreman, who knows Rawsam. A boy saw Rawsam around the depot until a train for St. Paul pulled out. It is believed he was a passenger on that train but efforts to learn if he purchased a ticket have been unavailing. Police have abandoned dragging the river, convinced that Rawsam's body will not be found.

DEATHS

MRS. HERMAN KRANZUSCH

Mrs. Herman Kranzusch, 68, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Levedusky, 906 Commercial-st., following a long illness. She was born in Germany and came to this country 52 years ago, settling on a farm in the town of Osborn. She has lived in Appleton for 40 years.

Decedent is survived by nine children: Mrs. John Levedusky, Gustave, William, Theodore and Arthur, Appleton; Mrs. Gustave Wankey and Mrs. Franklin Baker, Seymour; Miss Adeline Kranzusch, Kaukauna; Mrs. A. J. Nichols, Milwaukee; three sisters, two brothers, twenty-two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon from the home and at 2 o'clock from Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. Theodore Marth in charge. Burial will be at Riverside.

DIES IN MILWAUKEE

Patrick O'Brien, brother of the late Rev. Father O'Brien, died Monday in Milwaukee according to word received here Tuesday by relatives.

CYRIL ANTHONY BUTLER

Cyril Anthony Butler, 5-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Butler, town of Center, died Sunday morning following a brief illness. Funeral services were held at 9:30 Tuesday morning from St. Edward church, Mackville, with the Rev. George Schenmer in charge. Burial was in St. Edward cemetery.

STILLMAN FUNERAL

Funeral services for the late Guy L. C. Stillman were held at 2:30 Monday afternoon from the residence, 360 Cherry-st., with Dr. H. E. Peabody in charge. Members of Eagle lodge attended in a body and assisted in the services at the home and at the graveside. Six of their number acted as pallbearers. They were: Carl Koehnke, Walter Koehnke, Joseph Bookson, Arthur Schneider, John Fiedler and Charles Selig. Burial was at Riverside.

SOCIAL PAGEANT GIVEN AT RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

An educational pageant was presented by Miss Constance Johnson's class at the community religious training school in Lawrence main hall Monday evening. The players demonstrated how to convert a "dead" church into an active one, especially by reaching out and rendering service in the community. The play was so taught how a church can make itself more active socially. The plot was novel, including several humorous features.

RASEY ASSUMES DUTIES AS ROTARY PRESIDENT

Lee C. Rasey, president-elect of the Rotary club, assumed his new duties at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. Reports of retiring officers were presented and other business transacted.

Mr. Rasey gave a brief address urging greater community service from Rotarians and expressing the hope that the club might grow larger and stronger.

CHAOS IN EUROPE WILL REACH U. S.

Manufacturers find it difficult to induce labor to go to the country, and it has been necessary to build plants in cities even when transportation facilities were not a consideration. It is to be hoped that modern conditions may bring a change in this direction. It would have a tendency to relieve congestion in cities which are becoming in some instances uncomfortable and unsafe and it would add much to the standards of living of the workmen.

Make Poor Selection

We have advanced rapidly in our national development, but without any well defined plan and without proper understanding as to what the ultimate outcome might be. We proceed in the most casual way and trust to luck or rely upon our ability to meet critical situations when they arise. Instead of choosing the men best fitted for executive and lawmaking, we generally accept those who wish these cases of power and responsibility. The tendency is to take the orator at his own estimate of himself and give him the leadership of affairs, and we refuse to conscript into the public service the thinker and economist. Everyone who has had to do with governmental bodies, knows that the men who have most influence with the people are those who are eloquent and whose facts and suggested policies are often obtained from others having deeper and more constructive minds.

Edward G. Lowry in an admirable series of articles printed recently in the Saturday Evening Post, has given a critical analysis of the departments at Washington, particularly regarding expenditures, and he tells us that just so long as we refuse to take an interest in the direction of our expenditures, the waste and extravagances will continue.

Everybody Must Pay

For the first time we have awakened to the fact that all but a small percentage of the vast sums we pay in federal taxes go for war purposes, or purposes imposed upon us by wars in the past. And yet we do nothing to check it. The nontaxpayer is a very large voter, but he does not understand how excessive taxes and extravagances in government affect him, and we do nothing to teach him. He could be shown that his interest is even greater than that of those who actually pay the tax.

Years ago when panics gripped this country, it was difficult at first for the south and west to realize that their beneficial effects would sooner or later reach those parts of the country, and we now have like difficulty in realizing that disturbed and chaotic conditions in Europe are of only less concern to us than to them. Strikes and labor disturbances over there seem to concern us but little; however, if they continue for long, we invariably feel the pressure here.

The restlessness and dissatisfaction of labor both in Great Britain and on the continent are symptomatic of the disturbed state following the great war, and we may expect such movements to continue with more or less violence until some satisfactory solution is reached.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC. WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science, said Dr. James Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently.

Dr. Sullivan further said: "If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the moment organic iron is supplied it is often wonderful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and true organic iron. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings, while organic iron is a true red blood food, like the iron in your blood itself and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. In fact if you will eat a pint or two of spinach, half a pint of lentils and three or four baked apples each day you will probably not need to take any other form of organic iron; but most people prefer to eat a smaller quantity of iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, with them. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron can do for you, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles; then take Nuxated Iron for a month and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; see how the color has come back to your cheeks, how steady and strong your nerves have become. At all druggists.

Announcement

Having taken over the Lindley Laundry we will now operate the plant under the name of "THE PEERLESS LAUNDRY COMPANY."

Remodeling plans are under way and we aim to maintain a laundry for the people of Appleton and vicinity that will be equal to any laundry in the state.

An addition will be made to the building greatly increasing its capacity; a new front will be added; also a new power plant. The very latest of modern equipment will be installed. Construction plans will be practically completed within thirty days.

In the meantime we will take care of our customers to their entire satisfaction.

Mr. I. G. Berg will assume the management. Mr. Berg has had 15 years experience as a laundryman, eleven years of which were spent in Appleton. Therefore we feel that Mr. Berg is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the Appleton public.
